

Allyson Alert-Atterbury

Editor

aalert@unicef.org

Short Biographical Sketch

Experienced editor, writer and development professional with MPh, International Community Health Education (2002), and BA Journalism (1995). Self-starter with strong conceptual and organizational skills. including website/multimedia editorial coordination and production coordination. More than two decades work on development issues, including in a post-war context. Publications manager with 10 years' experience writing and editing on health, HIV/AIDS and child rights issues for publications, reports and other print media. Work experience in Bosnia and Herzegovina, Croatia, Italy, Trinidad and Tobago, United Republic of Tanzania and United States.

Languages

English, Spanish (basic)